Something Inside so strong 2015-16

Department Widening Access and Student Opportunity Project (DWASOP)

Final report – July 2018
Prepared for the Department of Theatre and Performance (TAP) and Student, Recruitment and Widening Participation Team
By Halimun Choudhury (Impact and Evaluation Officer)
Introduction

2015-16 was the first year departments at Goldsmiths, University of London were issued Widening access and Student Opportunity funds worth £5,000 per project.

Each project had a set of aims and objectives with a particular focus on one or more of the following:
- Outreach
- Retention
- Student success

The department of Theatre and Performance received £5,000 to deliver a project on widening access.

The project entitled, “Something Inside so strong” was managed by Daniel Braverman (Lecturer in Theatre and Performance).

Areas of Outreach and Retention were covered in the project, delivered through a series of c8 musical theatre workshops based on the songs of Labi Siffre.
Labi Siffri is a British singer, songwriter, musician and poet. Mr Siffri released six albums between 1970 and 1975 and then four between 1988 and 1998. Some of the singles include, “It must be love”, “Crying, Laughing, Loving, Lying”, “Watch me” and many more.

The workshops explored the themes of Labi Siffre’s songs, which included:
✓ Self-reliance.
✓ Challenging prejudice.
✓ LGBT relationships.
✓ Family and activisms.

BAME includes: Black or Black British (Caribbean), Black or Black British (African), Other Black background, Asian or Asian British - Indian, Asian or Asian British (Pakistani), Asian or Asian British - Bangladeshi, Chinese, Other Asian background, Mixed- White and Black Caribbean, Mixed- White and Black African, Mixed- White and Asian, Other mixed background, Arab and other ethnic background
Rationale

• Less than a quarter of the student population in the Department of Theatre and Performance undergraduate courses are BAME.

• As a result BAME, disabled students and Alumni volunteers have been recruited to deliver Outreach workshops to prospective students from local schools and colleges.
Aims & Objectives

The project aimed to:

- Recruit students onto two new courses: 1/ Musical Theatre and Community, 2/ Applied Performance.
- Engage with current Goldsmiths’ Undergraduate students studying in the Department of Theatre and Performance to reduce the risk of drop outs.
- Identify training and support for non traditional students in the department.

The Objectives were to:

- Develop and strengthen links with local schools and colleges.
- Raise awareness of Higher Education, Goldsmiths and TAP courses.
- Recruit for TAP Summer school programmes.
- Raise awareness and recruit for departmental outreach sessions.
- Build and strengthen relationship with current students in the department through the delivery of workshops.
Evaluation Objectives & Methodology

The main aim of the evaluation was to find out if the workshops:
- Had a positive impact on the students
- If it was useful, fun and engaging
- If students will consider studying at Goldsmiths
- If students will consider studying Drama, Theatre and Performance related degrees at Higher Education
- Encouraged students to do well in education
- Boosted their self-confidence
- Increase understanding of University / Higher education in general

An Outreach survey was developed by the Market Intelligence Team in corporation with the Recruitment and Outreach Team.

A printed copy of the evaluation was distributed at the end of every session for all attendees to complete.

A total of 41 responses were collected from all the workshops. 2 questionnaire surveys were completed:
- Outreach evaluation form (28 responses)
- TAP Taster evaluation form (13 responses)
Executive Summary

96% felt the workshops boosted their confidence.

85% increased their understanding about university.

Almost all participants found the sessions useful.

62% of participants are more likely to apply to do Theatre and Performance related subjects at degree level.

All participants would recommend the Outreach sessions.
Key findings

All the attendees found the workshops very useful. The average score for the sessions were 4.5 (on a scale of 1-5, where 1= not very useful and 5= very useful).

Participants were asked to rate the Tutors, Student Ambassadors and the Content on a scale of 1-5, where 1 = poor and 5= excellent. The Tutors were rated very highly, with an average score of 4.6, Student Ambassadors were rated 4.5.

Impact part i

Participants have learned a wide range from the workshops, some felt it was fun even though they didn’t know anyone. Others felt they gained a deeper understanding of the subject, some learned a new genre of dance, which was fun, inspiring and interesting. The sessions allowed the opportunity for participants to explore and learn more about themselves.

“Benefits of going to university - meeting people creative sides of making theatre” --- Going to university

“There are no limits in life if you can imagine it” --- Clarification on course

“I learnt a different genre of dance, which I found very interesting and inspirational as I love learning and exploring all different types of dance” --- New genre of dance

“All possible possibilities” --- New genre of dance

“Even though I didn’t know anyone, I can still have fun with everyone in the room” ---- Fun

“That I potentially could be anything that I want to if I put my mind to it and don’t forget the people you meet” – Can do attitude

Summary

• The sessions were useful, the Teachers, Student Ambassadors and the Overall content were excellent and participants rated it highly on a scale of 1-5 (1- poor and 5- excellent).

• The workshops were useful and served various purposes, participants explored different genres of dance, “I learnt a different genre of dance, which I found very interesting and inspirational”, others felt the sessions were useful and gave them the opportunity to learn more about themselves, “I potentially could be anything that I want to if I put my mind to it”. The sessions provided participants with a deeper understanding of the subject area in general, “I'd rather do musical theatre than just theatre/acting”. The sessions were fun, engaging and inspiring, “I can still have fun with everyone in the room”, “I found very interesting and inspirational as I love learning and exploring all different types of dance”.

• Attending the workshops boosted self-confidence for almost all (96%), encouraged a majority to do well in their education (93%).

• 37% of participants planned to go to university before attending the sessions, another 37% were unsure. However 85% felt the workshops increased their understanding of University.
Based on the data collected from all the questionnaires, the Market Intelligence Team would suggest the following recommendations:

The Outreach sessions:
- Include more singing
- More practical sessions
- More group warm up activities
- Increase the length of time spent on activities

For Recruitment:
- More information about Higher Education
- More about Goldsmiths University
- More information to take home about Higher Education / Goldsmiths/ Subject, e.g. Prospectus,
- Student Ambassadors to provide participants with an insight into University life
