I Live In It: a loud proud thank you to our bodies is an original piece of dance to celebrate International Women’s Day created by local women and students from Mulberry School for girls.

Thursday 17 March 2016, 2.40pm at Mulberry School Richard Street, Commercial Road, London E1 2JP (Venue: Sports & Leisure Centre)

Join us for a 40 minute demonstration workshop followed by 10 minute performance.
Part of the year-long research and performance project: The Gratitude Enquiry, led by artist Sue Mayo.

Image by Chuck Lowry.

Magic Me and The Gratitude Enquiry with Mulberry School for Girls invite you to

Admission by RSVP only, call 020 3222 6064 or email katherineeves@magicme.co.uk

Magic Me is the UK’s leading creator of inter-generational arts projects, an award winning charity based in Tower Hamlets. www.magicme.co.uk/i-live-in-it/

Sue Mayo, Theatre Maker & Collaborative Artist
www.suemayo.co.uk

Ellie Sikorski, Choreographer
www.eleanorsikorski.com

Jamie McCarthy, Composer
https://soundcloud.com/jamie-mccarthy-1/