The future materials are of two kinds: 1. Objects that have yet to be recognized as such; 2. A subjectivity that is not subject to the illusion of a self.

We speculate through refusing so-called intelligence, especially when the latter is pinned to the plane of matter.