ANNEX 1

THE SURVEYS

Notes about the data

The tables in the next pages present the 444 surveys about cultural engagement mapped for this dissertation. They include the following information: a) name of the country; b) geographic scope of the survey (national, regional, or metropolitan); c) local of the survey when not national; d) year; e) name of the study; f) sample size; f) data collection method; e) age of interviewees. I could not find all the information for all studies, particularly regarding method of data collecting and age of the interviewees. For that reason, some of the cells are empty.

Regarding geographic scope, they were divided in national (N), regional (R), or metropolitan (M). The metropolitan surveys (M) include studies carried out in one city, in a group of cities, in one metropolitan area, in several metropolitan areas, or in neighbourhoods of a city. The regional ones (R) include those carried out in one state or in a region of the country. The column 'Local' details all this information. There also surveys developed in various countries. They are presented in pages 30-31, including two surveys made in Great Britain (1986 and 1990) and one in the UK (2003/2004). The survey conducted simultaneously in North Macedonia and Serbia (2005) was counted separately (surveys n° 240 and n° 293, respectively).

In countries where data collection was made with mix methods, the tables do not present the number of interviews for each method. FTF, in these columns, means face-to-face interviews. The column of age shows the minimum age or the age group of interviewees.

The surveys are also numbered to allow the connection with the tables from Annex 2, which presents the references to get to the reports, websites or articles containing more information about the surveys.

ANNEX 2

REFERENCES

Notes about the references

The table below shows the references of the surveys mentioned in the Annex 1. The number adopted in the tables' first column of both annexes is the same, and it is the fastest way to locate the surveys. Beyond the reference, the other columns 'Country', 'Year', and 'Name of the survey' also repeat the information of Annex 1.

There are different ways in which the surveys are referenced. Some surveys have a specific report available in PDF format, resembling a book. Others can be accessed through websites of national statistics institutes or the ministry of culture, where they are presented in various formats such as executive summaries, online search tools for data retrieval, or slide presentations.

Additionally, certain surveys have their data published in academic articles, such as the studies from China, Israel, and the City of Porto. However, for some surveys, I was unable to locate the primary source of information (the original report of the surveys). In such cases, I have mentioned the articles from which I accessed the data. There are also instances where the information I have presented comes directly from culture public offices by email, particularly in the case of the first studies in some countries. The survey conducted simultaneously in North Macedonia and Serbia (2005) was counted separately (surveys n° 240 and n° 293, respectively).
